Plowman Craven are experts in capturing and presenting evidence at collision scenes and police incidents.

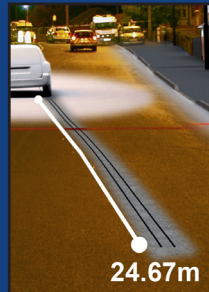

Over 10 years experience in capturing and presenting evidence of over 300 incidents including high profile cases such as the Princess Diana inquiry and the Potters Bar rail tragedy.

Using rapid and non-intrusive 3D laser technology, the collision scene will be captured in its entirety, from position of vehicles, individuals, skid marks, damaged kerbs, debris and location of evidence and more.

TruView - Once captured, the whole scene can be analysed using supplied free software on any personal computer, allowing for precise measurement and scene exploration.

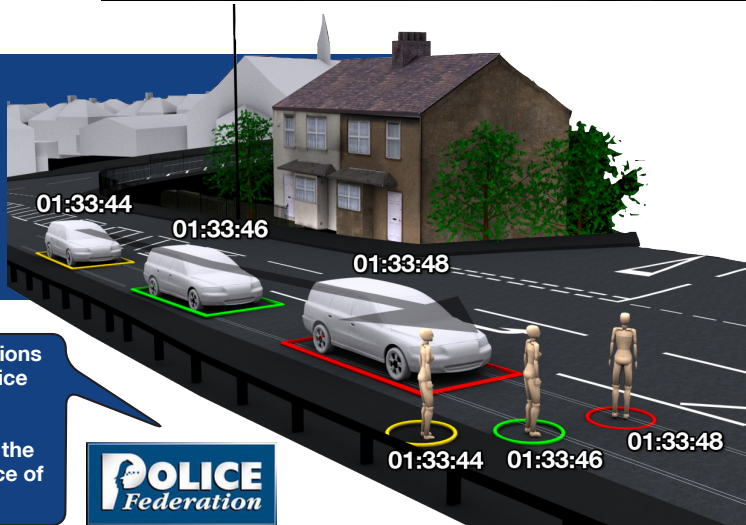

From data collected at the scene a wide variety of products can be produced to visualise a scene. These range from plan drawings to three-dimensional computer-generated models through to complex fully detailed animations.

- 3D can increase the validity and enhance the effectiveness of witness statements during an investigation and subsequently within the court room.
- Vehicles can be scanned and modelled accurately allowing driver viewpoints to be visualised.

- Vehicle layout, position and movement captured in a 3D environment.
- Accurately measured and modelled incident scenes, assisting a greater understanding of events.

“Plowman Craven’s reconstructions are an invaluable aid to the Police Federation.

Their expertise has been giving the Police Federation members peace of mind since 2005”
